ted out these well remembered protions of "Pinafore," "The Echen Girl," "Patience," "The Boben Girl," "Patience," "The Boben Girl," "Patience," "The Boben Girl," "Patience," "The Boben Girl, "Patience," "The Boben Girl," "Patience," "The Boben Girl, "Patience," " has shown that it is equal to all requirements. This time it has been a pore charmingly employed than in the ductions of "Pinafore," "The Bohe-mian Girl," "Patience," "The Pirates," lolanthe," "Fatinitza," etc., etc. This veck a new crowd, under a new leader, fame spots in the cast, the arkallis to note with what unfalling durity Sait Lake goes on furnish-year after year, a new coterie of thi young performers. A few years is was Nettle Thatcher in "Pa-ce" who charmed the town; then the Clawson, who was already an ress allosomed out into opera, now a Louise Savage who is on everyy's lips. She was the hit of the duction this week, and her birdrendering of the famous walts g, as well as her natural and dainty nearor, have charmed all listeners

The new weems has come to the Grand, and the town is now entaged in discussing her. I haver't had a right down good opportunity to judge of her, my first altigitance having been given so entirely to the home trochect at the other house, and I want to see her in something clee he fore? The coming week's bill at the Grand will be "A Woman's Power," which Effis Ellsler once played in this city, it is adapted and modernized from the old play of "Camilla's Husband," and the above will be the cast. Miss

Ross, the new addition to the company, will make his first appearance.

"Alabama," that dainty and charming southern idy in which Barrymore, the full choir, (now 500 voices) will give an entertainment of greater interest than has for many years, if ever, been given in our city. And as the inducing of such artists to come so far west means the incurring of large financial responsibilities, we hope that the music lovers of Sait Lake and Utah will support us liberally in this undertaking.

Stage Whispers. Katle Putnam and Harry Emery are sending this way again, actor, Mr. Clement Bainbridge.

Ned Royle and his wife leave on this menning's train for New York, where they will probably remain during the winter. Their departure was hastened by the receipt of several telegrams announcing that T. Henry French hat offered Mr. Henderson the American theatre on favorable terms for a production of "Mexico." As the American is one of the big, popular playhouses of the metropolis, and the theatre of all others Mr. Royle would have chosen, he thought best to be on the ground as early as possible to close up the arrangements. In addition to that ground as early as possible to close up the arrangements. In addition to that ground as early as possible to close up the arrangements. In addition to that ground as early as possible to close up the arrangements. In addition to that he will probably settle with Mr. Wilkinson, Salvin's late manager, to take charge of his business interests. The may also play will tollow their operations in New York with the keenest interest, and sincerely trust they may have the success, both with "Mexico" and the new play, that both undoubtedly deserve.

Speaking of Salvini, the hopes of all his admirers have been unexpectedly raised by the appearance of the following paragraph in the New York to play an engagement at Hammerstein's Harlem opera house. Prof. J. J. McClellan was the recipied lowing paragraph in the New York of Mirror.

'Mrs. Alexander Salvini writes from Florence to her friend, Mrs. George M. Hendee of Springfleid, Mass., that her husband is on the road to recover. The doctors gave him up twice while he was ill at his father's villa, but each time he railied, and at the approach of cold weather it was decided to remove him to Florence. There an operation was performed which was more successful that the doctors dared to hope. If he does recover completely, says Mrs. Salvini, his health will probably be better than it ever has been before. Of course it's going to be a long time, for he has been very ill. I didn't suppose anyone could be so sick and live."

Flays may come and plays may go, but 'The thil Homestead' bids fair to go on forever, It comes again to the theatre on Dec. 14 with a New York cast, and with a leading man in Thompson's part, selected by Thompson himself, Denman is so busy making money in the big enatern cities.

Last week we were pleased to receive from the veieran, C. W. Couldock, a marked copy of a Dis Moines paper, containing the following notice of his appearance with Wilton Lackaye.

The surrounding himself with a completely engaged being a confirmed dyspectic of the playing Tichard III. backed his appearance with Wilton Lackaye.
